

ALEX BELL

Alex Bell was born in Adelaide and lives in Brighton in the city of Bayside, Melbourne.

He studied drawing at East Sydney Technical College under the tutelage of Godfrey Miller and at the London Polytechnic

He then worked as an illustrator and cartoonist in London and Canada for eight years. From 1960 to 2000 Alex worked in the Advertising Industry where he was a successful advertising visualizer.

Alex first showed at Without Pier Gallery at the Little Gems - Christmas Boxes Show in December 2005. He has participated in all our Watercolour Shows.

Alex is a Member Brighton Art Society and has won several awards. His work is spontaneous and intuitive. It never looks laboured and his sense of colour and light are creative and playful.

His work is a reflection of his environment and where he lives in Melbourne's Bayside suburbs.

Many of his picturesque works hang in private collections across Victoria.
